Courses are out!

Sign up now for courses starting from September!

Sutton College courses for the 2018-2019 academic year are now available online. Hundreds of courses starting from September are available for enrolment including a huge variety of subjects and course lengths.

Courses on offer include an array of part-time and evening classes in accredited qualifications, leisure courses, workshops and more. The College has expanded its offering from the Wallington centre from September and students will be able to take new courses including Raku Firing for Ceramics plus Copyrighting, Online Security plus an Access to HE course.

Learners can find out more about the new courses on offer in various ways. The best method is via the course website where you can find full listings and detailed information on each course. A downloadable course details guide is also available on the college website, leaflets and printed information are available at centres and local libraries plus representatives from each area of the curriculum will be present at the open event on Saturday 8th September. The event will take place in Sutton High Street from 10am – 3pm with displays and demonstrations as well the College team on hand to answer any queries.

Full listings of courses starting from September plus those available for Summer College this July are available at
